GLOBAL NETWORK FOR ENERGY
CLEANTECH, CORPORATE SUSTAINABILITY

WHAT IS AGRION?

AGRION is a global business network for energy and sustainability. With offices in New York, San Francisco, Frankfurt, Paris, and Beijing, the mission of AGRION is to connect thought leaders and executives, within and across borders, for the purposes of business development, education, idea-sharing, and networking.

AGRION currently has over 200 member companies spanning a wide spectrum of industries and sectors. Through weekly events held online and onsite, as well as a networking forum at www.agrion.org, AGRION reaches over 100,000 professionals globally

HISTORY

AGRION was created in 2006 by a club of international entrepreneurs including Steve Ballmer, CEO of Microsoft, Sir Martin Sorrell, Founder of WPP, François-Henri Pinault, Owner of Gucci Group, Wu Jianmin, President of the Beijing Institute for Diplomacy and former ambassador of China to several countries, Gerhard Zeiler, CEO of leading German media group RTL, and other international leaders.

THE SCOPE OF AGRION'S NETWORK

AGRION aims, at once, to be an umbrella group for energy and sustainability professionals, and an intersection of industry-specific networks. This duality enables cross-industry collaboration and focused discussions within targeted communities.

AGRION Communities:

Corporate Sustainability

Energy Storage

Electric Vehicles

Green Building

Green Business in China

Green IT & Energy

Smart Grid

Solar Energy

Sustainable Supply Chain

Urban Management, Community Services and Public Transport

Water Management

SELECTIVE PROFESSIONAL NETWORK

The AGRION network is restricted to decision-makers and thought leaders within the energy and sustainability industries. AGRION vets every profile upon creation to ensure that all AGRION users are high-level and relevant to AGRION's target communities.

AGRION SERVICES AND PRODUCTS

Local On-site Meetings: AGRION organizes on-site meetings in the San Francisco Bay Area, New York, Frankfurt, Paris, and Beijing. Our interactive meeting format engages speakers and high-level participants in targeted, industry-specific discussions and valuable networking. On-site meetings are streamed through our website and thus available to all members regardless of location.

International Online Meetings: AGRION hosts online meetings on regional, national, and international topics on energy and sustainability. Such meetings are available to our global membership base. Online meetings includes speaker presentations and an interactive discussion and Q&A portion.

AGRION Reports and Videos: AGRION meetings are accessible via streaming webcast, on-demand video, and detailed reports.

Online Networking and Discussions: Utilizing AGRION's networking platform, members can create profiles, identify and manage contacts, and contribute to online discussions, debates, and meetings within industry-specific online communities (see list of Communities above).

WELCOME PERIOD & MEMBERSHIPS

Use of AGRION's online community and networking is unlimited for users of the network and available upon profile acceptance. Paid membership includes:

- Attendance at Online and Onsite Meetings
- Report and Video Downloads/Viewing

A complimentary trial period includes participation up to two onsite or online events.*
